Hotels in Scotland There are many hotels in Scotland, particularly in towns (Edinburgh, Glsagow, Aberdeen, Dundee, stirling). When searching for a hotel, my advise would be to follow the Scottish Tourist Board who rates the hotel by categorie. I Have never been deceived with hotels in Scotland, they are always comfortable, clean, with friendly people. Nevertheless I prefer beds and breakfast than Hotels in Scotland, because they are smaller an more familiar. You can find beds and breakfast everywhere in Scotland, it is I guess the best way to travel to this beautiful country.
