

Map of Scotland - Scotlands War - history and scottish life (hotels, visit, maps, songs)

Contributed by Administrator
Saturday, 03 March 2007
Last Updated Saturday, 21 April 2007

Map of Scotland Scotland lies right north of de British Isle. Scotland Capital is Edinburgh but the main city is Glasgow. Both cities arre located in the south of Scotland. Total area represent 78 000 square meters and population is estimated aroud 5 million people. Map of Scotland is dividde into two main areas : The Higlands, in the North is a wild area, with moutains and lakes (called Loch). The higher mountain is the Ben Nevis (1343 m) and the most famous Loch is the Loch Ness. The main citie in the Higlands is Aberdeen, located on the east cost. Southern Scotland is a far more inhabited area with the two major cities and also major industries.If you are looking for a hotel to rest, see Hotels in Scotland .